PREFACE

With September came the beginning of high school for the sophomores. They visioned but never realized the vastness of Waterford High. They got lost in the corridors and were orphaned wanderers from homerooms. New adjustments had to be made but as they faced new opportunities and privileges they became accustomed to their new life and quickly learned the routine.

The juniors felt more assurance as they walked familiar halls and were surrounded by their friends and teachers. With a much larger enrollment, they found every classroom in use every hour of the day. They were caught up in the whirl of activities and lost in new and interesting fields of knowledge as they began preparing for their long awaited senior year.

Having returned for their final year, the seniors faced the promise of added responsibility. They found their days busy, packed to the last minute with work and fun. There were absorbing activities of Student Council, athletic events, clubs, and dances to make every minute exciting. As seniors, they soon realized they would soon no longer hear the slam of locker doors and see familiar faces. They now looked toward the future and wondered what obstacles they would encounter.

So, with you the student in mind, we have prepared this 1959 Waterlog. It is your book, the result of many hour's work with a common purpose, the depicting of your life at Waterford Township High School in 1958-59, as you lived it day by day and as you will wish to remember it in the years to follow. Your work and play, your interests and education are painted for you in pictures and copy in this, Your 1959 Waterlog.

Donald E. Arsen

A barrel of fun and personality is Mr. Don Arsen, former social studies instructor, who has won a place in the hearts of all. Who can forget his winning smile and friendly hello?

During his nine years of teaching at Waterford High, he taught World History, American Government, Orientation and American History. Extra curricular activities with which he was associated are Hi-Y, Golf, and Senior Trip Club.

His interests were truly in the Skippers and their activities. One could joke and have fun with Mr. Arsen and respect him at the same time.

After heading the Social Studies department at WTHS, he left at the end of the first semester to become principal of Waterford Village Elementary School. Everyone will agree that our loss is their gain. To Mr. Arsen, a progressive educator without being a revolutionary one, we send our best wishes.

*To Jacki,
a real sweet gal. It's been nice knowing you this year. Looking forward to seeing you in over 10 years.
Have a ball this summer.

Paul E. Ripley

A quiet modest fellow who instills confidence in everyone with his friendly smile and confidence-winning personality is Mr. Paul Ripley. He lent encouragement and enjoyment to his English and Journalism classes when he taught at WTHS.

Having charge of school publications since 1954, he gave willingly of his time in preparing publications. In him the students found a true friend with the rare quality of an even temper and an ability to see the other person's side of the question.

With the conclusion of the first semester this year, he was named assistant principal of Isaac E. Crary Junior High School. To Mr. Ripley, a fine leader who automatically commands the respect of others, we wish the best of everything in the future.

Many Decisions Made By Board

The operation of our many schools in Waterford Township and the decisions that have to be made concerning plans and policies lay in the hands of a capable Board of Education.

Unselfish devotion to duty is the phrase that characterizes the Board of Education. The township is fortunate in having experienced people to make vital decisions concerning the welfare of its young people.

Also meeting with the elected Board members are Mr. William Shunck, superintendent of schools, and his two assistants Mr. James Denherder, head of finance, and Dr. Chandos Reid, curriculum co-ordinator.

Among the many matters that the Board handles, the planning of a new high school is one of the most important this year. We must truly congratulate our Board of Education for a job well done.

Administration Solves Situations at WTHS

Mr. James Fry, Waterford Township High School's principal, known for his sincere friendship and efficient organization, is now in his second year at the principal's desk.

His unceasing leadership and stimulating incentive have guided Waterford toward the distinguished role it plays in the realm of high school education.

He can be seen enjoying himself at almost all school activities and sports events, despite his busy schedule.

Mr. James Fry

Mr. George Madden

Mr. George Madden assumed the position of second assistant principal at the beginning of the second semester.

Previous to his assignment at Waterford Township High School Mr. Madden was assigned as assistant principal at Crary Junior High School, Waterford Township.

Our assistant principal, Miss Helen Bulla, has been at Waterford since its formation in 1947. Because she has seen many students come and go, she could never begin to list those students whom she knew quite well and assisted in some way.

Miss Bulla's job includes mainly disciplinary actions, and advisory work with students. She works closely with Mr. Fry and is in charge of faculty assignments.

Miss Helen Bulla

Counselors' Advice of Great Value

Our counselors here at Waterford are busy, constantly helping students with curriculum and other problems which arise throughout their high school career. They see, mainly, that the students are taking subjects suited to their ability and interest. Their wise insight into the nature of students' many questions, makes them helpful counselors to all who seek their aid. Often the counselors help students with problems outside of their school life. These usually have a definite connection with school work. They always find time to help a student desiring counsel.

Mrs. Olive Spiess, attendance officer, keeps an accurate record of all those absent and tardy during the year.

Checking schedules and helping many of the sophomores are among the various tasks of Mr. Byron Merritt.

Filing and counseling are part of Mrs. Suzanne Baber's day at school.

Aiding students in their many scholastic problems is only one of Mrs. Joan Nickman's many jobs.

Almost every student is well aware of the difficult and tedious tasks performed by our office secretaries and bookkeeper. Their duties are varied, including constantly working closely with students, keeping scholastic records, receiving all telephone calls, taking care of all school correspondence, and in general, helping the school function properly. This year their job has become more difficult with the sharp rise in student enrollment.

Our Office Is Run Efficiently

Mrs. Emma Olson, records secretary, has the responsibility of keeping school records.

Handling all financial records of the school and ordering all supplies for the bookstore and school keeps Mrs. Bertha Bryce busy.

Miss Susan Canfield, office secretary, helps Mrs. Oakes with the general office work.

Doing general office work in the main office is the job of Mrs. Mary Oakes, office manager and secretary to Mr. Fry.

They Plan Tasty Meals

Food Service personnel take time out for lunch.

The preparation of food is a big task and requires tremendous equipment.

MRS. E. PUGLISE
Staff Supervisor

They Keep Our Bulidings and Campus Neat

Our cafeteria staff works diligently to prepare the noon-day meals for which they have earned top recognition in the state. Since the lunches require a great deal of careful planning, much effort goes into the preparation of the taste-tempting and very nutritious meals. Each year as the school population increases, their job becomes even more difficult. This year, with five lunch periods, it was an especially difficult task.

The students at WTHS are particularly proud of the sparkling appearance of their school, and much appreciation goes to the very capable maintenance staff. They not only efficiently care for the buildings and campus but help with all school functions.

It is the aim of our school that the "entire program of studies, activities, and community services shall be so designed as to provide for many and varied living experiences." Our school courses are planned to meet the needs of the college preparatory student; to train the boy or girl who is interested in commercial or vocational work; to help the one who is not yet ready to decide on his future job or profession. There is something here for every student.

Joan Menzer explains where in the United States the majority of cotton and tobacco is grown to Jim Luzod and Barb Harthun.

World, People and Problems, Past and Present

"Give me liberty or give me death." This statement aroused thirteen colonies to fight for their independence securing the economic, political, and social conditions of the past and present. An understanding of the world and its policies are brought about through world history, American Government, economics, world geography, international relations, U.S. History and home and family living.

World history is a survey course of the nations of the world from the beginning of time up to the present date. Political, economical and cultural history of each country is studied.

American government details the basic governmental facts that were introduced in U.S. History. Some comparative governments and the federal system are studied at various levels.

Economics presents the essentials and basic facts of economics. Finance, production, distribution, consumption, labor, capitalism and American free enterprise are studied with emphasis.

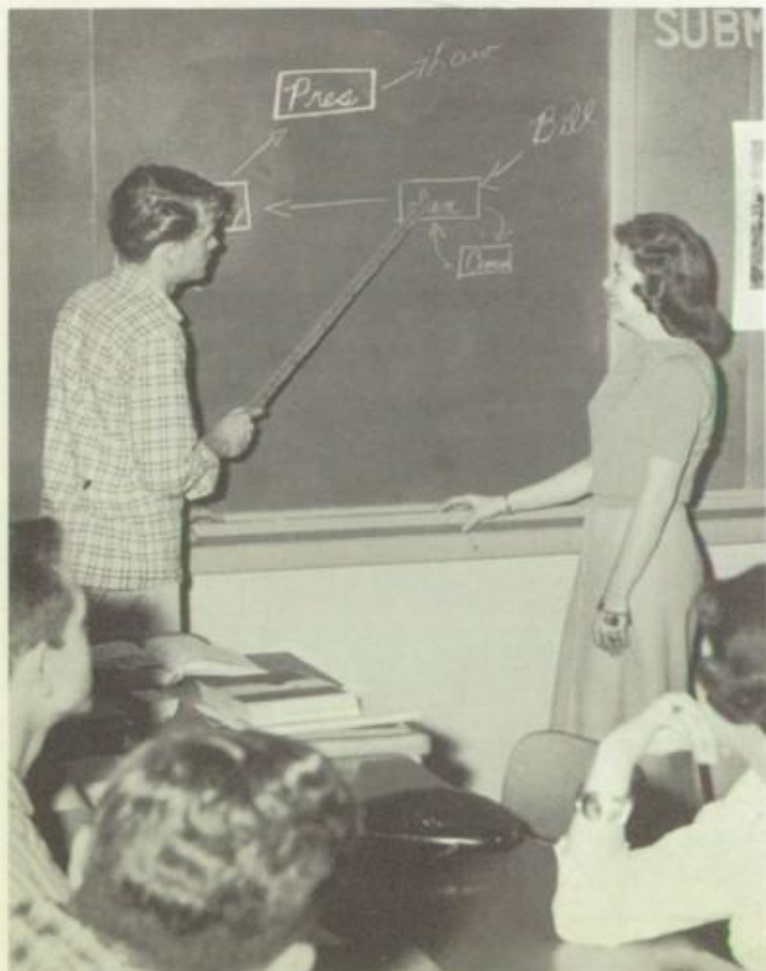

World geography is designed to give students some concepts of the world's climates, their causes and effects, adjustment of people to these climates, and effects of geography on current affairs.

International Relations deals with contemporary international problems. Members of the United Nations are studied through a combination of discussions, lectures, and panels.

U.S. History is a comprehensive study of our nation, beginning with the European background, developing from the original colonies through the War between the States, the period of Reconstruction of the South, to world affairs today.

Home and family living is designed to help students better understand themselves and each other, and to prepare for marriage and family life. Getting along with the family, dating, engagement, marriage, home management, and child care are studied. Panel and group discussions, filmstrips, sociodramas, guest speakers, and extensive library research are used in presenting the material.

Jim Hatfield explains to Sandra Spurlock the steps taken before a bill can be passed.

Mr. Coleman discusses with his government class the current world problems stressed in Time magazine.

David Klinke, Roger Johnson, Arthur Lake, Cecil Meyers.

Jean Salathiel and Bill Davis take notes on the findings of the microscope in biology class.

Knowledge Through Study and Practice

"Books must follow science, and not science books." To solve the mysteries of environment and the physical world, students turn to books of science. Science classes that are offered are biology, physical science, chemistry, and physics.

Biology courses survey the various factors of the environment that affect living things, the effects of living things on the environment, the problems of health of the internal structures, the anatomy of living things, including man, and the problems of inheritance.

Physical science studies some theory and practical applications of chemistry, geology, physics, and astronomy. It offers knowledges of the world around us in order that everyone understand the social environment.

Chemistry class consists of laboratory experiments and class discussion to help students gain new skills in the relationship between chemistry and everyday life.

Physics is the study of physical laws and problems of machines, fluids, heat, sound, light, and electricity. Students apply the use of formulas and equations to the working of problems.

Engaged in the study of centrifugal force are seniors Larry Brown, Marty Haviland, and Roger Ward.

Showing to his French II class the correct translation of an English paragraph into French is Clark Lefurgy.

Mr. Edward Mott, French teacher points out some interesting facts about France to Mrs. Lioubitsa Siagris, Latin teacher.

We Learn to Communicate With Our Neighbors

"Language is the expression of ideas, and if the people of one country cannot preserve an identity of idea they cannot retain an identity of language." French and Latin classes provide a relationship as well as an understanding of various countries.

French class offers a basic background in vocabulary, grammar principles, and pronunciation in conjunction with the study of France's history, literature, customs, and geography. Emphasis is placed upon conversation, impromptu writings in French, short stories, reading from literary books chosen from a brief survey of French literature and composition.

Latin class provides a study of the structure of Latin in various aspects. Emphasis is placed on English derivatives and English grammar. Considerable reading is done in Latin literature, including Caesar. Attention is given to the customs and ideals of the Romans as reflected in their writings and their life.

Both languages are used today either in religion, medical profession, service to foreign countries, or for the benefit of personal knowledge.

Mrs. Siagris listens as Jim Owczarki, Mary Harding, Bruce Martin, and Sue Welch dispute the origin of a goddess during the study of Roman mythology.

We Learn Journalistic Techniques

Journalism contributes to a general education teaching significant facts and providing educational benefits for the school as a whole. Journalism refers both to the practice of preparing publications and to the study of certain aspects of adult journalism which have real educational value. The different areas of journalism are introduced to the students, giving them certain broad understandings of the whole field of writing and editing, as well as the related fields concerned with producing a publication.

As an extra-curricular activity, a student may participate in the preparation and publication of the school newspaper and annual. By so doing, a student may qualify for election to Quill and Scroll, an international honor society for high school journalists showing superior ability.

Not pictured is journalism instructor Charles Reicks, who was ANCHOR advisor and in charge of printing all year; and, when Mr. Ripley left, assumed directorship of the News Bureau and Waterlog.

Betty Steehler, Mary Ellen Cote, and Laurie Sherwood, Co-Editors of the 1960 Waterlog discuss plans for future yearbook production.

From the business point of view, publishing a yearbook is mostly a problem of getting what might be called a large sum of money and then spending it wisely. The staff this year has collected over $5,000 from the sale of yearbooks. This money is budgeted for photography, covers, typesetting and printing.

Barbara Boeneman and Mary Ellen Taylor discuss a page lay-out for this year's Waterlog.

The purpose of a yearbook is to provide a happy memory book of the school year for the average student, serve as a historical record of the school year and publicize the work of the school. Student interest in the school is stimulated and student loyalty increased through publication of a yearbook. Workers on the yearbook must make it their first choice of activity because staff work is exceedingly demanding.

Production of a newspaper is a very complex business. There must be advertising, and there must be copy.

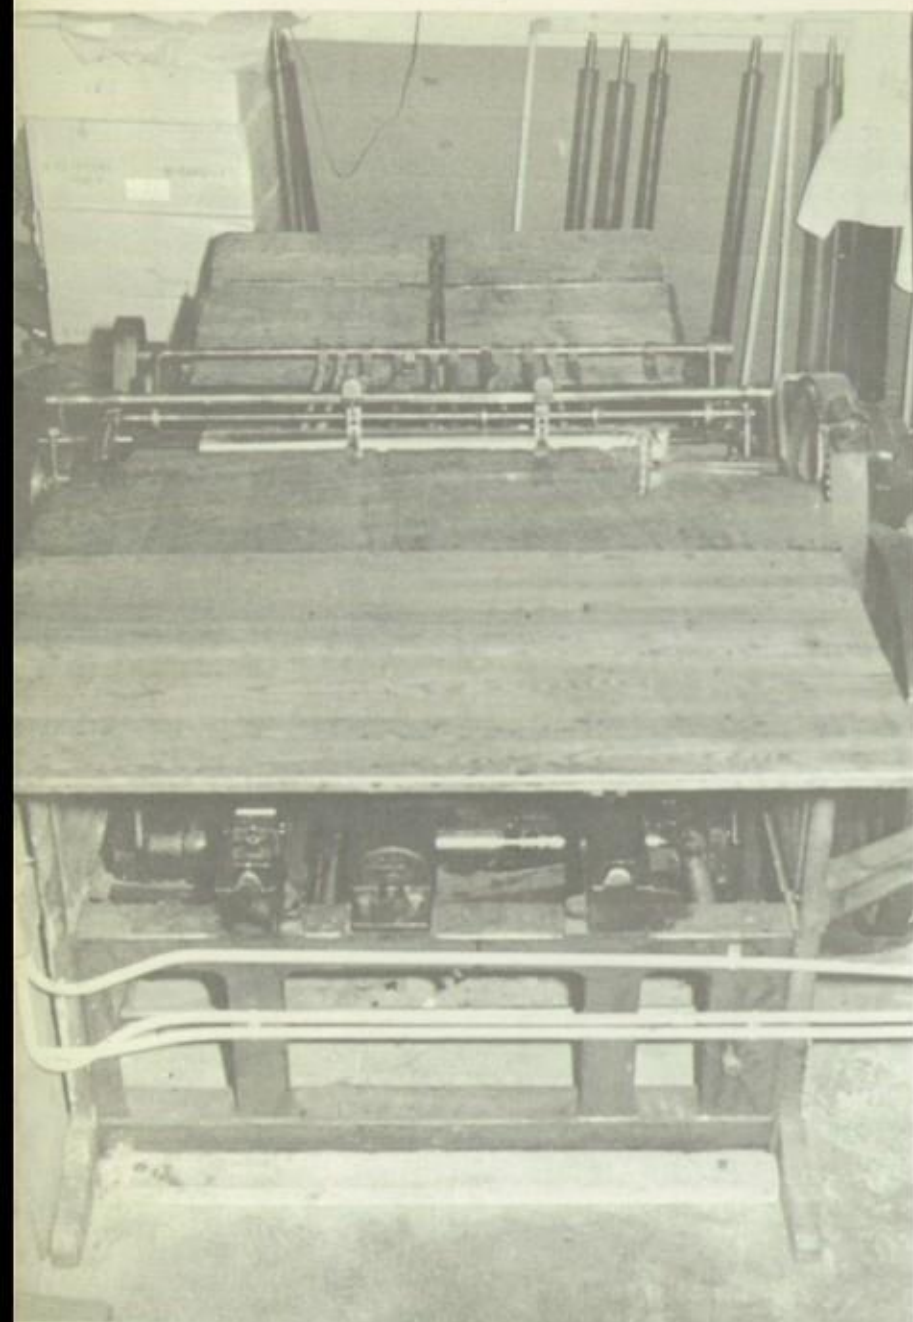

Major contributions of copy come from the members of the Journalism I and II classes with occasional contribution from members outside the journalism classes.

Business management and advertising are both very important in the field of Journalism. The business management provides a complete and accurate account of expenditures. This involves preparing a budget, following it, and knowing the financial condition of the paper at all times. Separate accounts are kept for the newspaper and the printing. Each account involves over $3,000. The manager and workers are responsible for billing and the collection of bills of advertisements, correspondence, circulation within the school, and exchange with other schools throughout the United States.

Advertising involves the learning of its principles. The advertising manager is in charge of his solicitors and must arrange the make-up of the advertisements for each issue and must also keep a record of the advertising so that advertisers can be billed and collections made. Most important, the newspaper depends on advertising for a fixed part of their revenue to insure the financial success of the paper.

Our printing press, used for printing the Anchor, tickets for games, athletic schedules, programs for athletic events and productions, and stationery letterheads, was purchased last year with the help of a loan of $600 from the class of '60, and was installed this summer for use this year. Work in the printing room in the "A" building is done by Ed Bohlman and Henry Murray under the sponsorship of Mr. George Kressback. Mr. Frank Smrcina, a professional printer from the Pontiac Typesetting Company, assisted in printing until they were familiar with the equipment.

Other equipment purchased for the printing room was a type case, slug cutter, type, quoin keys, a couple of hand presses and other second hand equipment.

We are one of only three schools in the area owning their own printing press.

Mark Boe, Gary Gaynor, Carole Holcombe and Vonnice Stark of the Anchor staff discuss contracts for the sale of advertising.

Linda Bollinger, Jim Luzod, Loetta Lyon, Karen Peterson, standing and Kerry Payne, Gary Dodman, seated, discuss forthcoming plans for the News Service Bureau.

We Inform the Public

The public has demonstrated a definite interest in the happenings at Waterford Township High School. In trying to satisfy this interest the journalism classes have established the News Service Bureau, which publishes a "news release" tri-weekly.

Knowing that the best news will interest the greatest number to the greatest extent, the News Bureau spends much time and effort in compiling it. Activities of Waterford High are reported to the Pontiac Daily Press, The Lakeland Tribune and Radio Station WPON, by the News Bureau correspondents.

News releases from the service bureau are furnished to the Pontiac Press and Lakeland Tribune for regular publication on their school pages.

Loetta Lyon and Judy Waara serve as Editors of the class divisions of the News Service Bureau.

Miss Mary Tsekery and Mrs. Lois Pety.

"Art is indeed not the bread, but the wine of life." Art class is a basic course designed to introduce students to the use of various art media and to study the principles of design. Students are encouraged to work from their imagination as well as from scenes in real life. Their aim is to develop a keen awareness of everyday life and how it may be expressed in a creative, original manner. An emphasis is placed on techniques of painting and drawing.

Class activities include drawing and sketching in ink, charcoal, pencil, chalk, and combinations of these; painting in tempera, watercolor, and combinations of these; ceramics, use of potter's wheel, carving, coil, and slab methods; also sculpture; copper tooling; linoleum block printing; leather tooling, carving, stamping, and lacing; wood projects, carving, burning, and painting; design, realistic and abstract, studying elements of design as they are used in work, they are color, line, shape, dark, light, texture and pattern; studying the principles of good design and good composition and applying them to work; interior design, cars, fashion design, furniture design, advertising and layout, block printing and clay.

A group of art students work on their linoleum block projects.

Creative Expression Gives Satisfaction

Math Is Essential In Our World Today

Nicholas Menghini, Mrs. Lela Long, Charles Wiseman.

"Add to golden numbers golden numbers." Addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division are mathematical principles that offer a challenge. Students accepting these challenges enroll in Algebra I and II, Plane Geometry, Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, General Mathematics and Business Arithmetic.

Algebra I is the study of sign numbers and letters in mathematics. Equations are used to find unknown quantities. Formulas, fractions, and graphs are studied.

Algebra II is applied to difficult work concerning powers, roots and quadratic fractions, linear equations, and series. It is a specialized course in Algebra to prepare students for advanced work in mathematics.

Plane Geometry is the study of flat surfaces such as the triangle, parallelogram, and the circle. The writing of logical formal proofs of statements such as theorems, propositions and axioms are emphasized.

Solid Geometry works with solid figures such as the prism, sphere, cylinder, and cone rather than with flat figures. Much is done with learning how to find the volume and surface of such solid figures.

In geometry class Jerry Andre and Nancy Hiller industriously demonstrate a test problem from the day before.

Bud Cook explains the correct use of the slide rule as Mr. Wiseman listens intently.

Preparing for Tomorrow

"A man's success in business depends upon his power of getting people to believe he has something worthwhile to offer." Business courses are designed to aid students both professionally and personally.

Business Arithmetic not only offers a thorough review of arithmetic fundamentals, but it also provides a background for essential information and experience for use in bookkeeping, clerical practice, business management and consumer economics. Bank transactions, buying, personal finance, borrowing, savings, investments and taxes are studied.

Bookkeeping aids in setting up a system of record keeping in the home or in social and civic life.

Commercial Law covers legal problems, laws of contracts, employer and employee relations, buyer and seller relationship, laws of sales, negotiable instruments, debtor and creditor relations, and insurance and property.

Business Typing includes the typing of letters, announcements, invitations, composition at the typewriter, manuscript writing with footnotes, outlining, different styles of business letters, the forms of punctuation, proper placement, spacing, addressing envelopes, use of carbon paper, and dictation directly to the typewriter.

Practical Office Training consists of two practice sets containing checks, payroll forms, interoffice memos, telegrams, legal forms, filing, alphabetic, numeric, geographic, subject, triple automatic, soundex and decimal.

Personal Typing is designed to enable students to manipulate and care for the typewriter and to produce personal work with a reasonable degree of efficiency.

Shorthand I is designed to develop students' ability to write shorthand as it is used to record the dictation of an ordinary businessman. The Gregg system is used.

Shorthand II and Transcription enables students to merge shorthand, typing, English skills, neatness, pleasantness, courtesy, and poise in the production of mailable transcripts.

Distributive Education trains individuals to perform competently in one or more areas of distribution. Sales techniques, store organization, merchandising, telephone usage, correct job attitudes, advertising, display, store management, and also problems and projects which are determined by the individuals' needs and interests are covered.

Office Machines offers a working knowledge of office machines. Typing rules are stressed and information of general interest to the students is covered, such as office problems.

Pre-Retail Training gives students a composite picture of the various marketing functions and their relationship to everyday living. The history of retailing, getting started in retailing, opportunities in business, managing money, advertising, personality and salesmanship are stressed.

Lucretia Creighton sketches a picture on the mimeo-scope for the weekly newspaper put out by the office machines class.

Use of the dictaphone is mastered by Pat Rose as she types her final letter for the week's project.

and the Business World

Carol Clark, Mary Giles, and Pauline Slade improve their speed and accuracy during a timed writing.

Sue Rae Johnson learns from practical office training that filing ability is essential in the business world.

Singing is, of course, the primary and best-loved business of the A Cappella choir. Under the skilled direction of Mr. Richard Meier, the choir delighted audiences this year with its inspiring music.

The choir attended the Michigan School Vocal Association Choral Workshop at Wayne State University. Participating in assemblies at Waterford as well as an exchange assembly at Pontiac Central High, presenting the operetta, "The Red Mill," Christmas and Spring Concerts were only a few of its activities.

Vocal groups won a record-breaking number of firsts when they competed in the Vocal and Ensemble Festival at Wayne State University. The choir competitively performed at the Chorus Festival at Pontiac Northern High School, and won several honors entitling them to sing at the State Festival.

The girls, boys, and mixed ensembles are composed of students selected from the choir. Their aim is specializing in finer singing and performing for such functions as church and social club dinners. The ensembles also participate in the spring festival and sing at the Michigan Association for School Librarians Festival at the University of Michigan. Their special aim this year was the Solo and Ensemble Festival held at Wayne State University on February 14.

We Shall Have Music

"Music is the world's only international language." When passing by the band room before rehearsal, one may wonder why Waterford is so proud of its Marching Band. A confusion of toots, honks, squawks and muffled rumbles bears no resemblance to music! But a few minutes later, the band settles down to producing harmonious, ear-soothing music under the capable direction of Mr. Donald Perrin.

The Band played for all home football games and for the Waterford vs. Southfield game this year. A portion of the Band also played at basketball games. Always ready for a command performance, this year the Band played at the Christmas and Spring Concerts, as well as marching in the Police Parade in Pontiac, and playing for the pep assemblies.

Band practice on the football field during warm weather was a familiar sight.

Adding interest to our high school band this year were seven skilled majorettes. In their new uniforms of white slacks and crew necks, they marched at all of our home football games and performed in a special program for our annual Homecoming game. They also had the privilege of being chosen to march in the Fire Prevention Parade and the Police Parade in Pontiac.

This being the last year for Rene' Cook and Linda Groves, only Carleen Cook, Linda Murphy, Janet Wohlfiel, Donna Gracey, and Norma Bailey will be returning next year to continue their twirling and marching.

Self-Expression

In Speaking and Acting

"To speak much is one thing, to speak well is another." Speech class is designed not only to help students speak well but also to help them gain confidence, self-expression and poise in speaking effectively with and before others.

Students achieve this purpose through participation in trials, panels, discussions, skits, debate, radio skits, interpretative Reading, club organization, composing and presenting different types of speeches, conversation, pantomime, presenting plays for children such as "Sleeping Beauty," and by judging TV, radio programs, movies and plays.

Speech students are preparing themselves for various phases of life other than public speaking or announcing. Expression of thought and idea are developed through speaking well.

Reading aloud to classmates gives students more self-assurance.

Ciss Roberts and Dave Wilson portray Lady McDuff and McDuff during the study of Shakespeare's Macbeth.

"To climb a steep hill takes a slow pace." English is one of the steepest hills for students to climb, requiring four successfully complete years before graduation. To hasten the pace a college preparatory course is available to students with rapid comprehension.

Complex grammatical concepts such as diagramming an infinitive or a gerund, conjugating a verb, denoting parallelism, or defining a simple, a compound, or a complex sentence are introduced in the field of grammar. A major emphasis is placed upon composition skills and techniques, a good paragraph development, organization of thinking, and good sentence structure through the writing of themes and research papers. Reference works, library, reading and vocabulary are stressed through the use of the Readers' Guide, card catalog.

Shakespearean theaters, costumes, and customs are portrayed by students during the study of "Julius Caesar." "The Telltale Heart" by Edgar Allan Poe and "Silas Marner" by Eliot provide ample opportunity for interpretive reading and comprehension of thought.

Grammar and literature are closely knit together to prepare students for proper communication with others and to enable them to work together by understanding others.

Suits and Souffle', Our Specialties

Regardless of her choice of a vocation, nearly every girl will wind up with a career as a homemaker. To pave the way, the home economics department offers several different courses. Students study the art of making a house a home, and find a common interest in cooking and sewing.

WTHS girls learn in sewing that it's easy to stretch the budget and be well dressed if they can make their own clothes. They find cooking is both an art and a science. Explored in the home economics courses, cooking can even satisfy that creative urge. The girls learn to plan meals, prepare them appetizingly and serve them delightfully.

Sharon Madill, Judy Cooper, Judy Boyer, and Diane Weston learn that sewing requires a good deal of patience.

Vocational Skills Learned In Industrial Atmosphere

Students in drafting class work industriously at the drafting boards.

George Kresbach and Donald Benson examine an experimental car being built by students in auto mechanics class.

A full program of shop courses is available teaching students to work with their hands as well as their minds. In the Industrial Arts classes a student may learn to be a competent auto mechanic, a draftsman, cabinet maker and metal worker.

The skills learned in the classes prepare the students for a vocation or avocation, whichever their choice may be in the future.

Developing Physical Fitness

"It is a poor sport that is not worth the candle!" Boys' Physical Education classes help build strong bodies, learn good sportsmanship, and prepare for extra curricular sports. Participation in sports, enables boys to learn to work and enjoy themselves together.

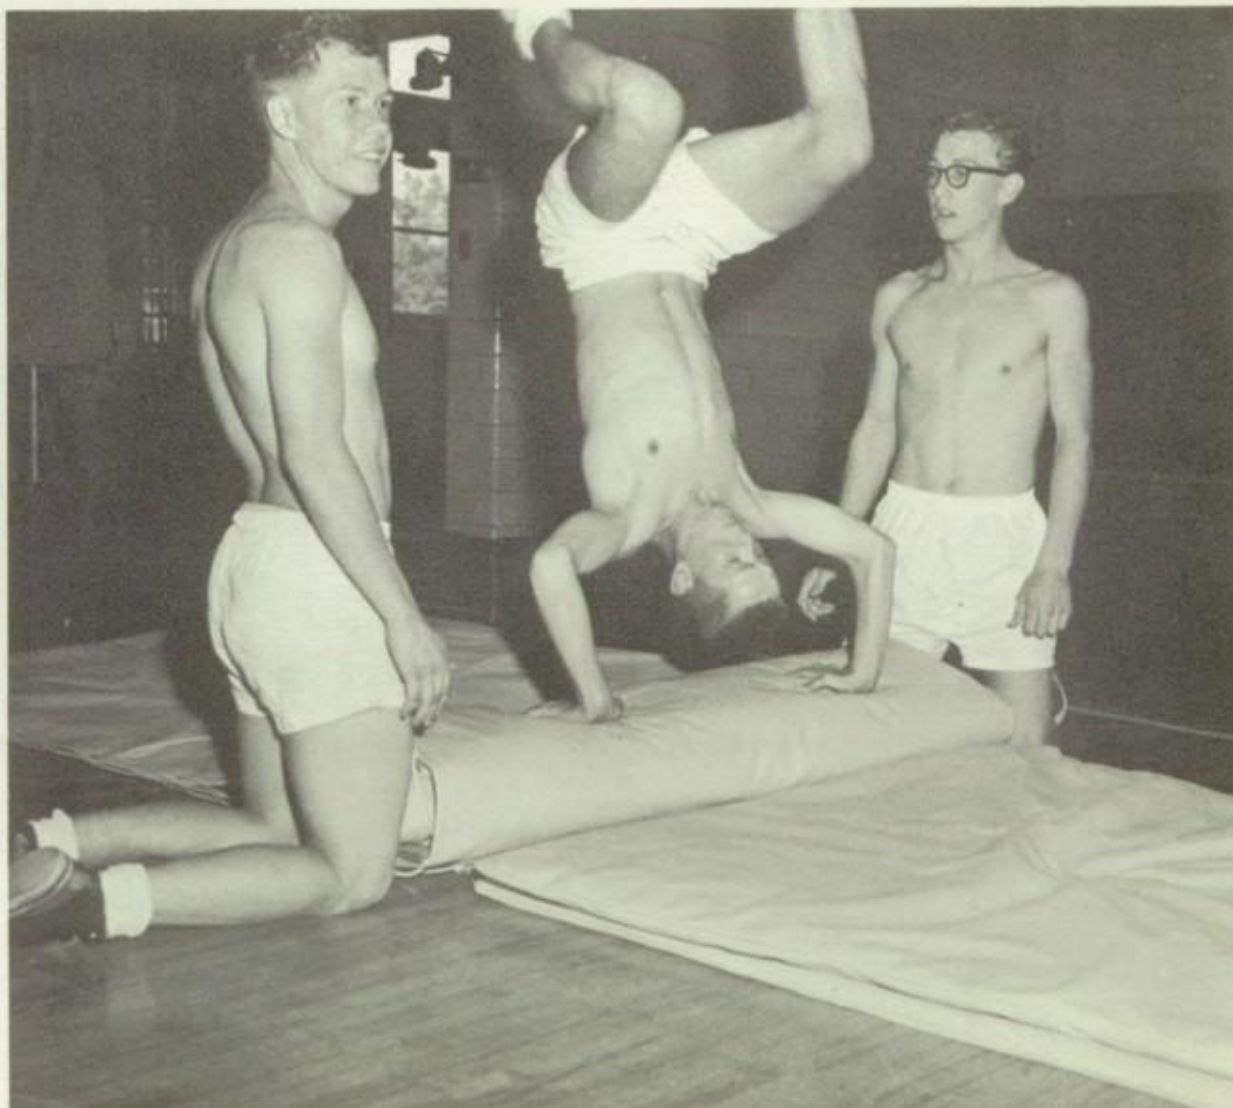

Before a boy can graduate he must successfully complete three years of physical education. This is one of the requirements placed upon WTHS by the North Central Accrediting Committee.

The boys' program includes rules, fundamentals, demonstrations, and participation in the following: touch football, fleetball, basketball, volleyball, tumbling, gymnastics, softball, track, table tennis, calisthenics, speedball, and a variety of group and individual games and activities.

Dave Parker goes in for a lay-up during a practice session.

Benny Weedon and Denny Burnia watch as Jim Paschke turns a backward hand flip.

and Sportsmanship

"Win without boasting, lose without excuse!" Girls' Physical Education class not only stresses sportsmanship but it also provides variety in the daily curriculum of students. It provides an outlet for surplus energy and offers a chance for girls to get acquainted through healthful participation in various activities.

One of the requirements of the North Central Accrediting Committee is that all girls complete three successful years of physical education during their high school career. Our school, like many others, follows this requirement for graduation.

Girls who are unable to compete in the various sports offered because of physical disabilities participate by keeping score and giving assistance.

Girls' activities include field hockey, basketball, volleyball, softball, badminton, table tennis, modern dance, square dance, tumbling, calisthenics, speed-away, archery and relay games.

Among students in the physical education classes, archery is one of the most popular outdoor sports.

Skill Attained From Experience

In the state of Michigan, all persons between the ages of sixteen and eighteen are required by law to successfully complete a supervised course in driver training before they can be issued a driver's license. Waterford offers this course, under the direction of trained instructors, free of charge to any student desiring this training.

No credit towards the student's scholastic record is given but a certificate showing the student has passed all requirements for the course is issued.

During the first few weeks of this one semester course, classroom instruction is given to familiarize the student with the mechanics and operation of a car. The remaining weeks are spent gaining experience through actual driving.

The Shelves Hold Knowledge

"Libraries are not made, they grow." The library at Waterford has been growing for seven years. It was originated in 1951 under the sponsorship of Miss Carey. $2,500 was the capital outlay to start it on its way. Today the board of education donates $1.09 per student and the money from penal fines such as drunk driving also go to school libraries. $1,000 has been allocated for books this year.

Over 5,000 books occupy the shelves of the library. It is able to seat sixty students. Fifty-three different magazine subscriptions and four newspapers serve as periodicals.

The purpose of the library extends beyond aiding students in reading, study and reference. Students create and further their interest and enjoyment in good reading material. They acquire skill in using reference books, the card catalog and the vertical file.

Over 1,300 students use the library either for specific classes or for their own personal reading pleasure. A library cannot grow unless it is being used. When students use it, the library not only grows, but each student's knowledge also grows.

Like colors give life to painting, students give life to school. When they enter the school in the morning, the quiet halls suddenly vibrate with their vitality and enthusiasm. As the day progresses, their vivacity can be felt while they hurry from class to class or enjoy a good lunch and gab session. During class time the rooms almost burst with their suppressed energy mingled with their desire to learn. Finally the eagerly anticipated dismissal bell sounds. Now the school is lifeless; the students have gone.

Seniors Make Future Plans

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

As sophomores, the graduating class of '59 was the first class to come from Isaac E. Crary Jr. High. To start their sophomore year, they elected Mike Penn, president; Jane Dovletian, vice president; Judy Moran, secretary; and John Studt, treasurer. Sponsors of the class were Miss Barbara Frank and Mrs. Laura Liimakka. During their sophomore year, the class held three dances, "Fall Frolic," "Cupid's Night Out," and a spring dance. After donating fifty dollars toward the financing of the exchange student to Europe and paying fifty dollars to the Student Council, which they were loaned to start their treasury, they ended their sophomore year with a balance of approximately $650.

To head their Junior year, they elected Tony Hiller, president; Mike Ewer, vice president; Karen Anderson, secretary; and Judy Kent, treasurer. Sponsoring the class were Miss Barbara Frank and Mr. Donald Gregory. The first Junior sponsored project of the year was a Sadie Hawkins dance, "Twirp Twirl." During the second semester, the class presented the annual Junior variety show, "Showboat Sputnik," and organized their Trip Club. Instead of the traditional Junior-Senior Banquet, they sponsored a Junior-Senior event. By the end of their Junior year, they had doubled their treasury.

As Seniors, the class elected as officers, Ron Newman, president; Mona Richie, vice president; Ruth Ann Vaughn, secretary; and Martie Haviland, treasurer. Miss Barbara Frank was sponsor of the class. Following the annual tradition, they featured the Christmas dance, "Illusions in Ice." Highlighting the end of their year was the Senior Prom, "Claire de Lune," the trip to Mackinac Island, Skip day and last but not least, GRADUATION.

Janice McClain, treasurer; Bob Cooper, president; Georgia Sword, secretary; Jerry Andre, vice president.

Beginning their Junior year, the class of '60 elected Bob Cooper president; Bob Diamond, vice president; Georgie Sword, secretary; and Janice McClain, treasurer. Sponsors of the class were Mrs. Elsie Carter and Mr. Duward Chaffee. "Turnabout," a Sadie Hawkins dance, held on November 21, was the first Junior class sponsored dance of the year. Entertainment featured Paul Lennon, popular comedian-impressionist and singer accompanied by Beverly Wells, Junior class member. On the nights of February 5 and 7, the annual Junior Showboat, the main money-making project of the class, was presented with "South Seas Showboat" as its theme. At the beginning of the second semester, the Juniors took over the bookstore. The appointed trip club officers were Jack Comas, president; Elaine Elliott, secretary; and Pat Herzina, treasurer. "March Whirl," a masquerade dance held on March 20, was the last Junior sponsored dance of the year.

Good night
Margaret Walker

Ours may not have been the highest score, but the lessons we learned mean much more. We developed fine character and grew in our attitudes of good sportsmanship both as participants and spectators.

Whether we had to sit out in the rain, snow, sleet, biting cold, or in a warm, humid, overcrowded gymnasium, we were there, cheering for the Blue and Gold. We were part of the pageantry, the spirit, the thrill of athletic events.

Victory was seldom associated with football on the Waterford campus this fall as the Skippers had a bad year winning 1 of 9 games.

Starting off the season the Skippers met Pontiac at home and after playing the Chiefs even in the first half, 0-0, they fell beneath the war party sent out by the Chiefs in the second half 26-0.

Apparently still shaken from the previous week the Skippers were no match for Lapeer losing by a 34-0 score.

Recovering somewhat from the fact that lightning does not strike twice in the same spot the Skippers took their first Interlakes encounter over Van Dyke. Tony Hiller found himself on the receiving end of two touchdown aerials from Bill Bryce giving the Skippers the game 12-6.

Displaying a fine first half for the homecoming crowd the Skippers fought the Falcons of Farmington to a scoreless tie at intermission. This condition was not to prevail, however, as Farmington unleashed their power for 42 points holding the Skippers to six.

Following the spoiling of the homecoming the Skippers took to the road and found the hospitality a bit rough. Berkley made the journey home for the Skippers a sad one by defeating them 19-7.

Once again the Skippers took to the road the following weekend and Southfield literally sunk the Skippers in a driving rainstorm 46-7.

Waterford found their next opponent none the kinder as Walled Lake downed them 55-6.

Taking their fourth journey the Skippers met Fordson and the Tractors plowed them under 35-14. Harry Nicolie unleashed two long runs each netting him touchdowns.

Waterford then returned to what they thought was the friendly confines of their own stadium for the season's final. Wayne must not have known this for they treated the Skippers roughly sending three seniors to the hospital before attaining their 27-7 victory.

An unidentified Waterford player is dropped by two Van Dyke Abes as end Tony Hiller approaches.

Jim Hetherington, Henry Wolf, and Benny Weedon charge down path ready for rugged action against the Farmington Falcons.

Bill Wood and Duane Hooper participate in the tossing of the coin prior to the start of the Farmington game.

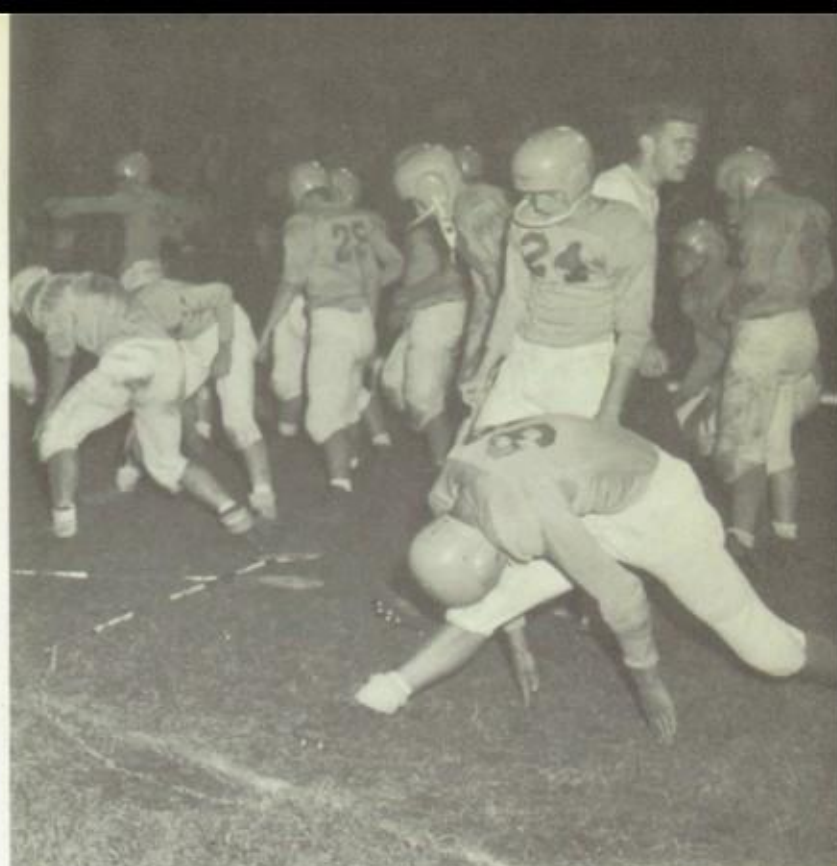

Wendy Meyer and Mike Kaines attempt to bring down Mike Agree of Farmington early in the game.

Tony Hiller catches touchdown aerial from Bill Bryce during the Berkley encounter.

Elbert Harrell, Bill Couture, and John Saum move in on Pontiac's Harrison Munson.

Duane Hooper looks on as Tony Hiller loosens up before the second half.

Tony Hiller tries to fight his way past a host of Farmington blockers.

Bill Bryce takes a lunge at a fleet footed Farmington halfback.

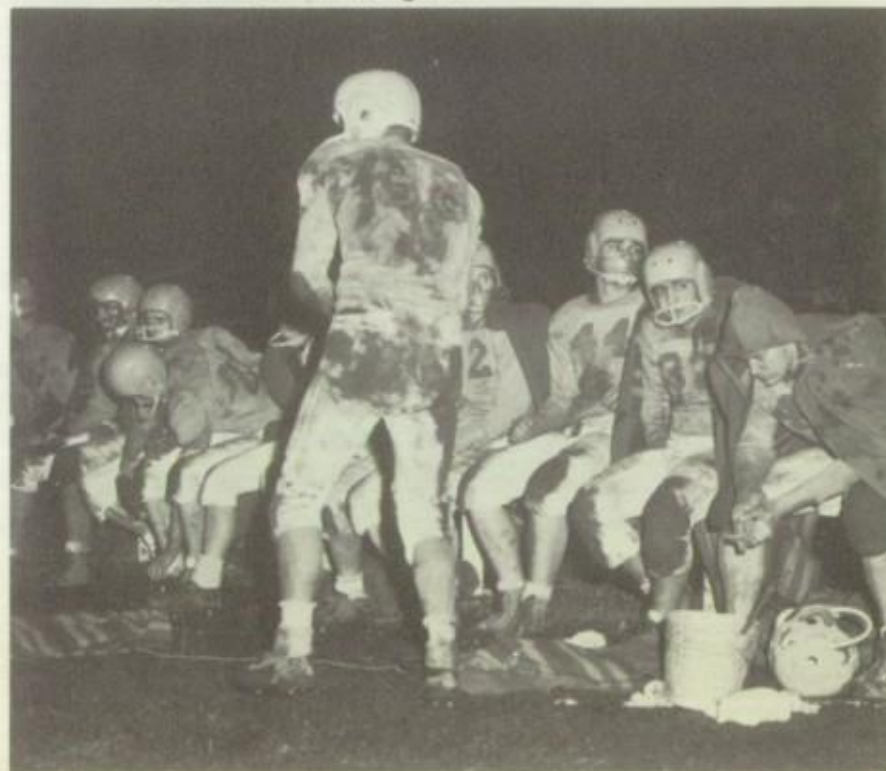

Wendy Meyer takes pursuit as an unidentified Waterford player brings down a Berkley runner.

Gloom and dejection prevail the Skipper bench late in the game.

Head Coach Dave Freeman gives last minute instructions to Donald Gibson as line coach Jack Fear looks on.

Sophomore halfback, Harry Savas drives through a host of Van Dyke tacklers.

The opening game of the JV's seven game schedule was played in the rain at Pontiac. The Skippers and the Chiefs fought to a 6-6 tie with Clyde Fitzpatrick getting the Waterford touchdown on a pass from Bob Newman.

The JV's didn't get their offense going in time to avoid getting their second straight tie, 6-6, this time with Van Dyke. Bob Newman sneaked over for the Skippers lone touchdown.

Outplayed all the way, the Falcons just couldn't stop the Junior Varsity. The Skippers poured it on throughout the game with Clyde Fitzpatrick getting two touchdowns, and Bob Newman, Bob Carter, and Mike Kaines each scoring once for a 30-0 win.

Berkley's Junior Varsity was the victim of the Skippers next uprising, 28-6. The JV's broke loose in the second half after leading by 7 points and scored 3 touchdowns. Bob Newman, Harry Savas, Mike Kaines, Bob Carter got TD's for the Skippers.

After an evenly match first half, the Southfield Jays punched across a second touchdown late in the game and the reserve Skippers just couldn't get going again in time to score. Harry Savas scored the Skippers' lone touchdown, 7-13.

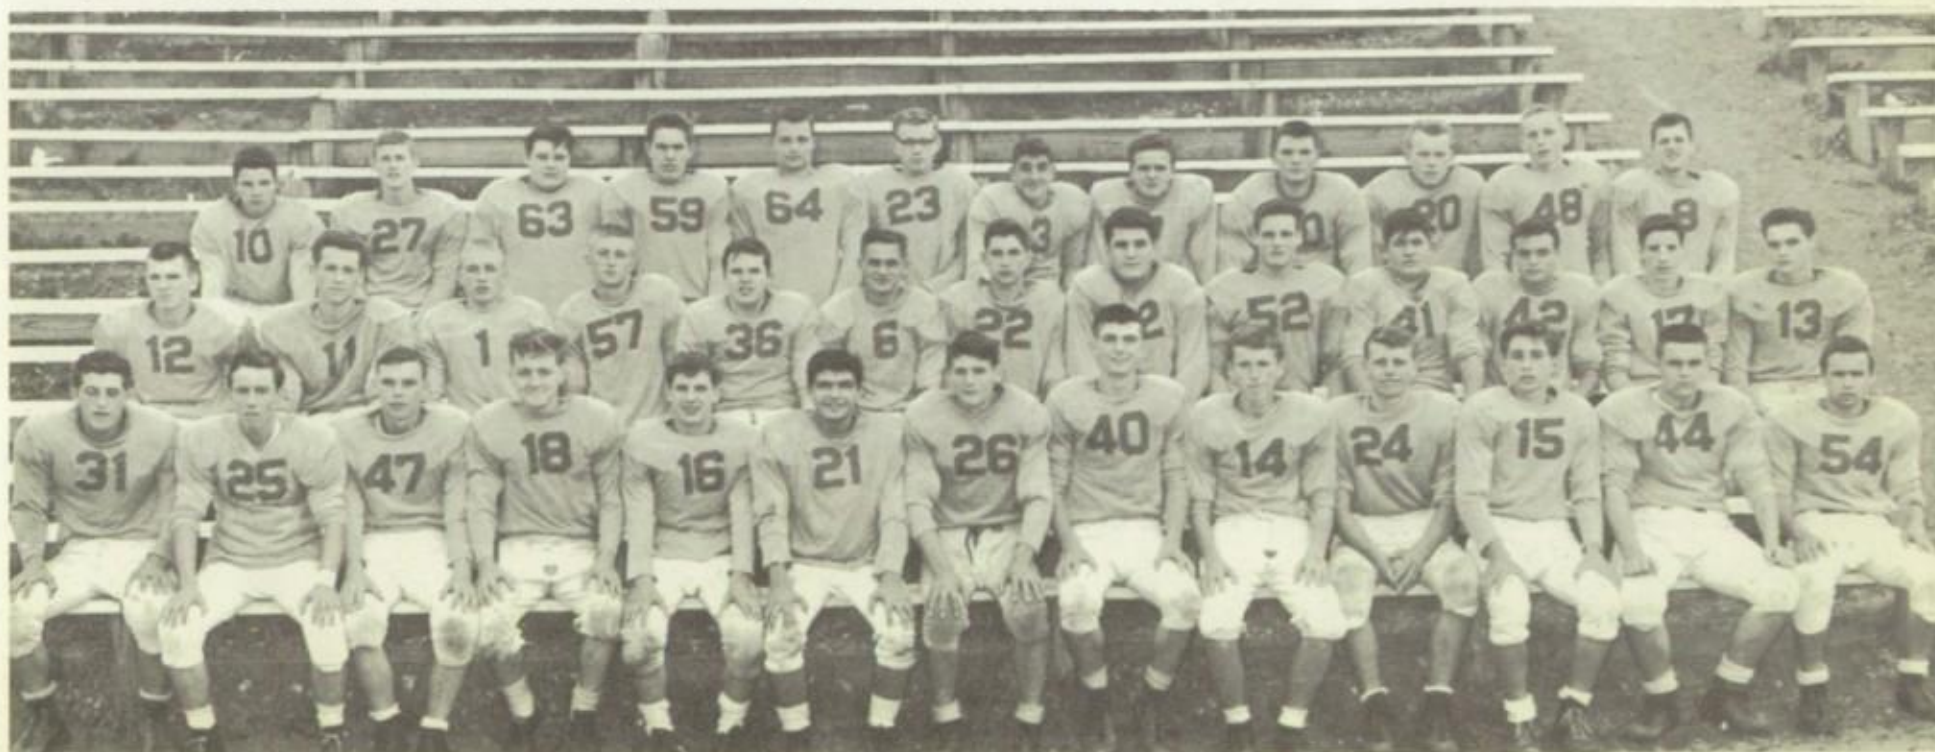

A crew of Vikings from Walled Lake gave the Junior Varsity its only shutout of the season by beating them 13-0 on the home field.

By blocking a punt in the end zone late in the fourth quarter, the Lapeer Junior Varsity escaped being completely shutout by the Skippers on the Panther gridiron in the season closer.

Mike Kaines scored twice and Bob Carter once for the Skippers in their 19-2 victory.

WAYNE: Two of the Skippers' losses were results of the non-league Wayne games. The Zebras took the first game by a score of 42-29, the second 54-48. FORDSON: The Waterford-Fordson game resulted in the third straight loss for the Skippers. Final score 60-39. SOUTHFIELD: The Southfield Blue Jays conquered the Skippers twice during the regular season play by the scores of 63-61 and 47-46 in a couple of heartbreakers. WALLED LAKE: Neighboring rival Walled Lake edged the Skippers in their first game 64-62, with the Skippers gaining revenge in the second game 59-50. PONTIAC NORTHERN: The Skippers netted two victories from the Pontiac Northern Huskies in non-league play. The first game 80-57, the second 60-48. VANDYKE: The Van Dyke Abes and the Skippers split during the regular Inter-lakes play. Van Dyke won the second game 44-43 with Waterford winning the first 55-40. FARMINGTON: The Farmington Falcons fell at the hands of the Skippers by the score of 49-48 in the season's first encounter. The second decision went to the Falcons by the score of 76-59. BERKLEY: The powerful Berkley Bears tasted two of their toughest games this season during Inter-lakes play. Although Berkley won both games by the scores of 62-59 and 47-44 "the hard-luck" Skippers did not concede defeat until the final buzzer. BENTLEY: In the District State Tournaments Waterford was totally outclassed by a powerful Bentley quintet, the final score 70-50.

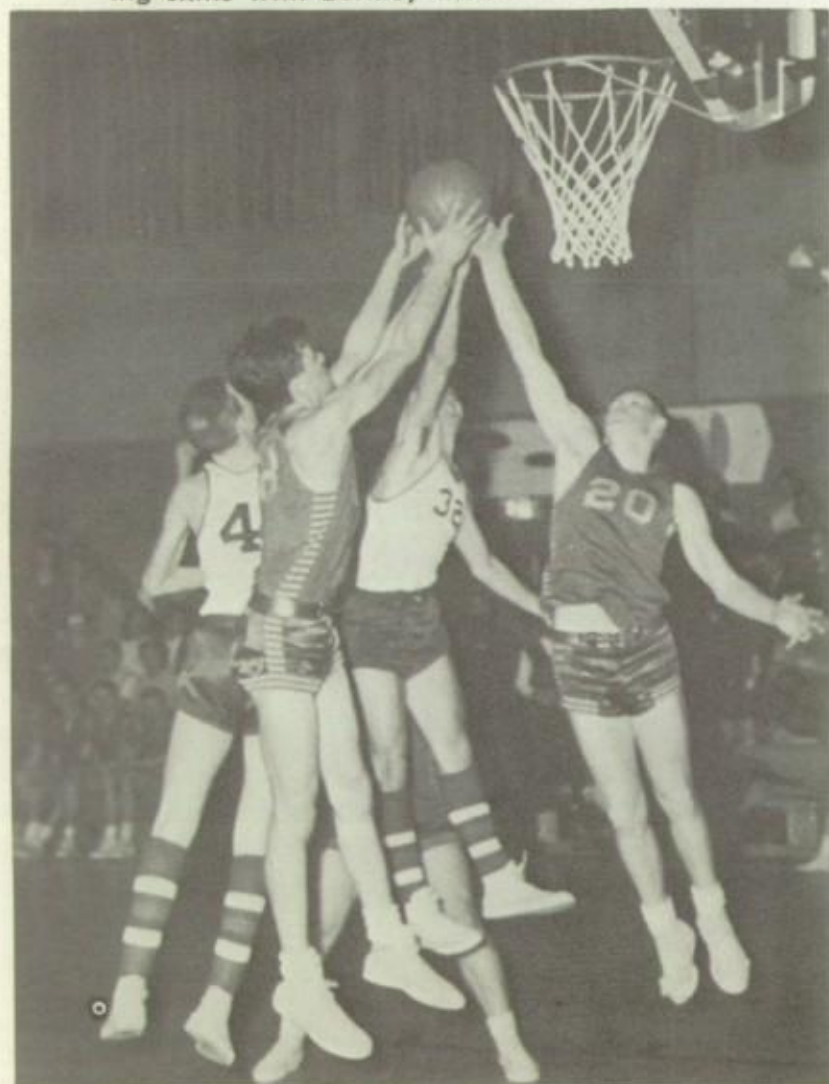

Skippers, Mahrle, Bowen and Campbell await a rebound in the Berkley encounter.

No. 28 Larry Bowen tips the ball from the hands of a Berkley opponent.

The Waterford reserve squad had a lot of bad luck in their midst this season. The J. V. cagers lost 10 of their fifteen games. Their five wins were over Van Dyke, Walled Lake twice, Pontiac Northern, and Wayne High Schools. In their losing struggles the reserve Skippers usually started the first half quite slowly and ended in a hot scoring spree. None of their losses could be considered as overpowering victories for their opponents, however, of the players who remained on the squad all season Dave Goff had the highest points per game average of 6.9 followed by Art Ruelle with a 6.8 and Dave Goff with a 6. Bob Newman and Jim Hoke were the only two reserves to be moved to the varsity squad this year. Hoke who played five J.V. games went to the varsity squad with a 12 point average. Both Gene Riabucha and Joel Goff who started the season somewhat slowly ended up the season showing considerable spark and excellent playing qualities.

JV cagers Stickney, No. 19, and Riabucha, No. 6, attempt to block a shot by a Berkley cager.

WRESTLING

Waterford's wrestling team, which is in its second year of existence, emerged from dual competition with two wins and seven losses this year. Waterford lost to Pontiac Central, Berkley, Southfield, Van Dyke, Farmington, Edsel Ford, and Pontiac Northern. Their two victories were over Walled Lake 28-22 and Wayne 35-15. The Skippers took the fifth place bracket in the Inter-lakes Tournament, matching last year's results, with 37 points. Berkley decisively took first place with 106 points. This years captain, Mike Hubbell, was the high point man of the team with a seasons total of 29 points. Under the coaching of Mr. Donald Beedle the team experienced victory this year for the first time in their two seasons of existence. Last year's record was a 0-4-1 in Inter Lakes competition.

Carl Koehler tangles with a rough Berkley matman.

Skipper Bob Black attempts to roll a Pontiac Northern Husky.

1959 Track Team — FIRST ROW: L. Chapman, E. Smith, H. Nicholie. SECOND ROW: J. Rutledge, L. Warner, T. Goff, E. Bartle, D. Tripp, L. Harms, M. Sickels, T. Underwood. THIRD ROW: B. White, B. Carter, M. Kaines, D. Traicoff, G. Eich-

Trackmen Seek to Regain Title

TRACK

Waterford's track team is out for revenge this year to regain the Inter-Lakes track title. The Skippers had captured the crown three out of four years until last year when the strong Farmington Falcons took the title from them.

Under the coaching of Al Cuthrell the Skippers took all of their Inter-Lakes dual meets last year because of their excellent depth. When they reached the Inter-Lakes, however, this depth was not an advantage. They needed the strong first and second places to take the title.

The competition is very rough but the Skippers are working hard to taste victory once again. The Skippers are very strong in many events but they are going to have to work hard to show well in some of their weaker areas.

Mr. Al Cuthrell, head coach of the Waterford track team.

Up and over goes high jumper Jim Smith, who is participating in his last track season before graduation.

Big Barry Campbell practices perfecting his form in the shot put.

With a .311 batting average, aggressive shortstop John Studt had a fine season in '58.

The Waterford High baseball team has hopes of bettering its 6-6 record of last year and of gaining the Inter-Lakes crown. Under the coaching of Dave Freeman the team will start action on April 17 facing Pontiac Northern and will finish the season facing the Huskies again on May 29. The team will play a 13 game schedule this year, playing all the Inter-Lakes conference teams twice. In addition they will meet Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern in non-league play. The Skippers have a rough schedule but hope to come out on top at the end of regular season play.

Janet Thomas

Along with her many other activities, being captain of the Varsity Cheerleaders, has kept Janet Kunse very active. Cheering on the JV squad in her sophomore year and on the Varsity squad for the past two years, much of the credit for our fine cheerleading squad goes to Janet, who through experience has capably led the girls. Much enthusiasm was added at all football and basketball games as Janet led the other cheerleaders, students and spectators in numerous cheers and chants.

Cheerleaders Add Sparkle and Zest

These human dynamos generated enough pep to boost the moral of the crowd, even if the team seemed in trouble. Attending every game, no matter what the weather or distance, the girls were models of good sportsmanship. In blue skirts and white sweaters, the girls made an impressive appearance along with their fight songs and novelty cheers.

Learning new cheers and routines requires the girls to spend one or two nights a week in practice. They were hosts this year to a cheerleading clinic at Berkley. Comprised of both Junior and Senior girls, they have added much to athletic events and pep assemblies.

WATERFORD FIGHT SONG

Stand up and cheer for the Skippers of our fleet;
 We're going to win this game.
 Stand up and shout for a team that can't be beat
 When victory is our aim.
 When the seas are getting rough
 And the going's getting tough,
 We'll sail on like men of old.
 So, look up! look out! stand up! and cheer and shout
 For the Waterford Blue and Gold.

Cheering since her junior year, Judy Kent, the only other Varsity letter holder, has displayed much pep and enthusiasm in stimulating school spirit as a cheerleader.

We Improve Athletic Skills

The Girls' Athletic Association gives sports-minded girls an opportunity to participate in various sports as an extra-curricular activity. As in former years, the GAA has one of the largest memberships in the school. The girls meet regularly for practice and for a playday.

This year GAA offered field hockey, basketball, speed-away, volleyball, softball, bowling, badminton and golf. Inter-school contests are held in field hockey, bowling and basketball.

Projects sponsored by the club were Pop's Night, Mom's Night, an Easter Egg sale and a pep assembly.

Concluding the activities for the year, a banquet is held honoring Senior members at which time the Varsity blanket is given to the Senior girl who, in her three years of high school, has made the greatest contribution to GAA.

Linnea Hedlund, secretary; Sharon Underwood, treasurer; Judy Kent, president.

Points Earned Afford Extra Recreation

By the accumulation of the required 150 points, earned through participation in GAA activities, a GAA member automatically becomes a member of Letter Club. Members have the opportunity to participate in extra recreation in addition to the regular GAA program.

Included in the activities for the year were a canoe trip on the Rifle River, attendance at a Gymnastic meet at the University of Michigan and a performance in Detroit of "My Fair Lady."

Council Members Aid In Governing the School

"The world must be made safe for democracy!" Waterford's students learn and practice democracy in their student government, the Student Council. Procedures of the council are patterned after those of the national government. (Representatives are qualified members elected by home rooms, which they represent.) Sponsored by a faculty board of sixteen teachers with Mr. Howard Bennetts and Miss Ruth Chamberlin, the faculty chairmen, the council's aims and goals are to express student opinion on school affairs, to promote operation and understanding between the faculty, the students, and the administration, and to maintain a fairness and balance among the various organizations in our school. The Student Council is also a service organization as well as a governmental one, and this year sponsored the Homecoming, the March of Dimes Dance, the after game dances, and regulated the hall monitor system and concessions. Among other things it handled the printing and selling of activity cards and student directories.

Ski Enthusiasts Snowy Slopes Lure

"Our motto is—Fun!" Newly formed this year the Ski Club has a rising membership. Sponsored by Mr. Dave Freeman, the members meet at Mt. Grampian Ski Area, Tuesday nights from 3:00 to 8:00. During that time, beginners are given expert instruction from qualified teachers. The advanced skiers may practice their skills on the more difficult slopes. Snow making machines are available to insure good skiing. The sponsor and members both hope to increase their membership.

We Strive for A Greater Appreciation of Books

"Literature always anticipates life. It does not copy it but molds it to its purpose!" Formed this year for the purpose of encouraging reading for enjoyment, the Literary Club is sponsored by Miss Ruth Chamberlin and Mrs. Beulah Smith. Sharing books already read, learning new fields of literature, building up personal libraries, and building up the school library are the goals of the members. The club had special activities, including outside speakers and a visit to the University of Michigan. The club hopes to increase its membership in future years.

Pride In Performing Helpful Services

"Variety is the spice of life!" One of the most active organizations in the school, the Hi-Y is sponsored by Mr. Lynn Rohrer and Mr. Charles Wiseman. They sponsor many activities; among the most important were a bike rodeo for grade school children in the area and the Easter assembly. The group also holds regular nights of recreation at the Y.M.C.A. They strive to produce boys who are mentally, physically and spiritually sound. Many of the club meetings are held in the homes of the various members. Highlights of the year were the United Nations Trip to New York, summer camp at Torch Lake, and the H-Y Tri-Hi-Y Legislature at Lansing.

They Become Acquainted With Fields of Nursing

"Health and cheerfulness mutually beget each other!" The twenty members of the Future Nurses Club, sponsored by Mrs. Suzanne Baber and Miss Majorie Lugar, aim to give themselves a better understanding of the many fields of nursing that they may pursue. During the year the club participates in many varied activities. Ranking high on the list was their many visits to the hospitals in the area. Movies and guest speakers were fluent on the activity list. As a service, they contributed in making tray favors and cookies for the hospitals and sending Christmas cards to the patients.

Preparing Today for Planned Teaching Careers

"Education makes one an articulate member of the higher whole." Approaching the achievement of being a teacher, members of Future Teachers investigate the problems they may face in the future. They do this through Cadet Teaching. The new program consists of getting in touch with the teacher she may work with and if accepted during the first week, observe the class in action. She may do actual teaching when the instructor feels she is ready to do so. Cadet Teaching is done throughout the elementary and junior high schools in the township. The maximum days of teaching are three per week or whatever is most convenient for the instructor, the class, or the cadet. The membership of Future Teachers is twenty students under the sponsorship of Miss Mary Tsekery and Mr. Arthur Lake.

"The business of the dramatist is to keep himself out of sight, and to let nothing appear but his character!" Troop 995 of Thespians is supervised by Miss Patty Looman. A National Honor Society, Thespians go hand in hand with Dramatics in the production of plays. To become a member one must achieve 35 points in his sophomore year, 21 points in his junior year, and 11 points in his senior year. Any points achieved in preceeding years are carried to the next. Anything done to further the dramatics club earns a prospective member points. Having a leading role in a play will earn five points or doing most of the scenery work will earn the same amount. New members are accepted at the end of the year during a formal initiation.

They Think, Decide and Speak

"Error of opinion may be tolerated where reason is left free to combat it!" The topic that the debating squad of Waterford adopted was—"Resolved: That the United States should adopt the British system of education." The 20 members of the debate under the sponsorship of Miss Patty Looman entered the regional debates through the Interlake League which was held at the University of Michigan, and participated in the debate tournaments held at Wayne State University in September. Debaters also entered the general-state schedule and debated Detroit Pershing, Warren, Royal Oak Dondero, and Detroit Thurston high schools. Plaques are received from the University of Michigan and the Detroit Free Press by the team taking first place. Debaters aim for the promotion of critical thinking and skill in organizing and presenting a persuasive speech.

The Laboratory Reveals Many Wonders

"The most sensual and exciting of sciences, Chemistry!" Even in its modern austerity, a chemical laboratory is the most fascinating place in the world to those lucky enough to possess strong curiosity and sense of smell."

Giving students the chance to gain more knowledge and "know-how" outside of class time is the main purpose of Chemistry Club. With Mr. David Klink as the sponsor, the club meets weekly. At these meetings students work on projects and experiments, review for tests, and receive additional help from Mr. Klink.

Visiting various chemical companies and laboratories aids the students in their knowledge of chemical concepts. This year the club visited the Wyandotte Chemical Company, the Niki Base and Chrysler Research Laboratory.

"L'homme s'avance selon sa culture." (The man advances according to his culture.) Teaching students more about the French language, customs, culture, and the people themselves is the main objective of the French Club, sponsored by Mr. Edward Mott. The club supports a needy family in Nancy, France, sending them a Christmas package of clothing and other necessities annually. They also send them the money earned by the members cooperation in working on concessions at football and basketball games and the dues collected. Religion, Fellowship and Service

"Service is a most rewarding virtue!" The basic functions of the Y-Teens are to help the needy, to promote stronger fellowship, to serve functions carried on at school or activities outside of school, to help raise funds for worthwhile purposes, and to live a clean, wholesome life as an example to others, in the best possible way.

Y-Teens, sponsored by Mrs. Edwina Isaacson, has an enrollment of eighty-two. Supplying a basket of food for a needy family, serving as hostesses at dances, and raising money for foreign needy children at the Y-Teen Festival in November were among the functions performed by the members. The club presented special programs, including movies, make-up demonstrations, guest speakers, and field trips, at their meetings.

Members take jobs and receive credits toward high school graduation. The fifty members of Co-op are sponsored by Mr. Stephen Hubbell. During the year Co-op students receive instruction on their jobs. They must work a minimum of 500 hours during the year to receive credit. Co-op students can obtain jobs in three phases: Retailing, Office, and Nurses Aide. At the end of the year, achievement records are presented to each Co-op student showing the number of hours satisfactorily completed for the course.

Letter Winners Create Athletic Interest

"Achievement in sports is an achievement in life!" The thirty-five members of the Varsity Club, sponsored by Mr. Dave Freeman, Mr. Alfred Cuthrell, and Mr. Jack Anderson, encourage and stimulate school spirit in all sports, promote participation in sports, and maintain good sportsmanship throughout the student body. To become a member one must earn a letter by participating in at least one of the sports offered by the school. This year they sponsored a Donkey Basketball game between the WTHS faculty and the Waterford Police Force. The purpose was to raise money for the athletic fund so that they might buy a projector and film.

National Recognition Given to Journalists

"If you wish to be a writer, write!" The main purpose of Quill and Scroll is to encourage and reward individual achievement in Journalism and allied fields. The society has taken an active part in raising standards in this field and in directing the course of high school journalism. It is sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Shupe and Mr. Charles Reicks. To be a member of Quill and Scroll one must complete 40 hours of outside class work, have superior leadership qualities, and be in the upper one third of his class. There are now 17 members in this organization. Among their services to the school the members printed and distributed programs for the football and basketball games.

"Authority without wisdom is like a heavy axe without an edge!" Hall monitors must have this wisdom in order to fulfill their duties, must be dependable, and must be able to work with students, faculty, and office staff. The records of the volunteers are checked with the counselors. Upper classmen are given preference, but sophomores are not eliminated. Hall monitors must maintain a "C" average. If they fail to achieve this average, they are replaced by someone who can. This year over ninety members participated in this program under the sponsorship of Miss Ruth Chamberlin. It is the job of these students to direct visitors about the school, to deliver messages for the office staff and teachers, to check students for passes, and to collect and keep records of admission slips.

Training Gained Through Service to the School

"The more you do, the more you can do!" The twelve members of the Audio Visual Aids serve the school by operating film projectors whenever they may be needed. Other important jobs they perform are repairing film and record players and taking care of all records. The club is sponsored by Mr. Frank Garland and is run on a voluntary basis. Members work during their study halls, lunch hours, and classes when their aid is needed. Skilled training for becoming a film projectionist is learned while they help others.

Dick Carlsen checks tapes for defects before releasing the film for classroom use.

Their Efforts Aid in Efficiently Run Library

"Books should conduce one of these three ends: wisdom, delight, use!" Sponsored by Miss Avis Carey, the twenty members, working in the library during their study halls, serve the school in many ways. These members aim to explore the limitless resources in books, to review books of fiction and non-fiction before clubs, religious, civic, social, and educational groups, and to review books for local and school publications. They also aim to suggest worthwhile books to classmates and to suggest books that will enrich various courses in the school's curriculum.

Pauline Denman and Sandy Meyers replace books returned during the day.

"After all, there is but one race—humanity!" Future Social Workers' Club hopes to attract those who are interested in human relations. Through its program it hopes to help its members develop in themselves a belief in dignity, worthiness of the individual, and acquaint them with many areas through which they may serve and work with people. The members visited the Training School for Girls in Adrian, the State Hospital, Hawthorne Center, and the United Fund Office. Mrs. Spurlock, representing the Red Cross, spoke to the members at an October meeting to explain the social workers place in Red Cross work. The club sponsors a teenage girl from the State Hospital for whom they give a birthday party. The club is sponsored by Mrs. Elsie Carter.

{xcitement swept over the campus as the students planned and prepared for the many social events throughout the year. Girls in pretty dresses blended with beautiful decorations at our annual homecoming dance, Christmas dance, and senior prom. Sailors competed with the natives when they were shipwrecked on a South Seas island in junior showboat. Basketball games, football games, and assemblies also highlighted our busy days.

ACTIVITES

Congratulations were given to Dick Finkbeiner after being announced as this year's homecoming king.

Carol Kaines guards a Farmington Falcon during the pep assembly skit.

Homecoming dominated the week-end of October 10 and 11 at Waterford this year. A pep rally, fire works, bonfire, game, and after game dance marked the first day of this gala event, sponsored by the Student Council.

At the end of Friday's school day a pep rally was held in the school's gymnasium. The main feature of this assembly was the announcement of the winners of the king and queen contest. The candidates, as their names were announced, took their position in the middle of the gymnasium. These candidates were nominated by the Senior Class. A school wide election was then held to determine who would be the "Royal Pair." The four people who were elected for the junior and sophomore courts were also introduced. These four students were chosen from their individual classes.

Fireworks lit up the sky, Friday evening, while hundreds of students and parents waited for the bonfire to begin.

Enthusiasm mounted as varsity cheerleaders led cheers and chants around the bonfire. In the game that followed the Skippers were defeated by the Farmington Falcons.

The queen and her court were driven around the football field at half time. Waterford's band gave a halftime show that helped put that extra sparkle into the event.

An after game dance was held in the school gymnasium. Both Farmington and Waterford students were invited to attend the one hour record dance.

Fourth Annual

At the pep assembly, the student body responded to the cheers with enthusiasm.

Joan Menzer, Sharon Nobel, and Andrea Allison were participants in this year's half time show.

The cheerleaders wait with anticipation for the kick off during the second half.

Homecoming at WTHS

The blaze from the bonfire kept the crowd warm during the pep assembly and game.

Blue and gold streamers gaily decorated the goal posts.

"Castles in the Sky," this year's coronation ball, was the climax of the homecoming week-end for 1958. The semi-formal dance began at nine o'clock in the school auditorium, one hour before the coronation of the king and queen.

A beautiful castle on a white cloud, suspended from the ceiling, was the center piece for the decorations with glittering stars and crowns surrounding it throughout the auditorium. As the coronation time approached the king Dick Finkbeiner and queen Susan Kuhn and their courts ascended the stairs and took their positions on the stage. Pages followed, presenting last year's king and queen Chuck Kirken and Jackie Winter with the crowns. As Dick and Susan sat on their thrones they were crowned by the past king and queen.

"South Seas Showboat," was the theme of this year's Junior variety show. Under the direction of Miss Patty Looman, Showboat was presented on the nights of February 5 and 7. Natives and swaying palms added to the tropical setting lending an atmosphere of warmth and color to this year's production.

The entire cast presented the grand finale.

As on all south sea islands, there was the traditional hula.

Senior Events

PROM

Traditionally, the senior prom highlights the students' senior year. After much planning and preparation by the seniors and faculty, the important big evening arrives.

Seniors and their dates in "formals and tux," dance in a gayly decorated setting to the music of the orchestra. Sitting and chatting, while enjoying refreshments, the couples wonder how the year of many memories could have gone by so quickly.

Couples glided gracefully to the music of John Harwood and his orchestra.

The moment arrives for the benediction and the sudden realization that this moment, although on the surface a happy one, is in reality a momentous last gesture.

Bring Joyance

Each year the seniors at Waterford High look forward to one particular day with the greatest anxiety. This day, of course, is Graduation for which these students have long awaited. For many, graduation is the start of a new life and for others it is the beginning of a higher education. The majority of the seniors can be heard saying, "I sure am glad that I am through with high school." The realization of the importance of their completed education and the fact that they were free from the many problems of life are seen only after these students leave school. (It is then and only then that these students realize the thanks they owe for an education in a democracy.)

The moment when they will receive their diplomas draws nearer.

With their diplomas in hand, the seniors breathe a sigh of relief.

Ruth Newman portrays the spirit of Waterford in GAA's "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Look where I had to write. Stay back here. Remember that wicked stepmother was looking forward to seeing you again.

Entertainment

Various school assemblies helped to make the school year a memorable one. Included in these were the assemblies given at Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter, as well as pep assemblies, given this year on a competition basis, with a trophy going to the class or organization presenting the best one. The annual Inter-Lakes talent assembly was held at Waterford on February 27, with Van Dyke and Southfield High Schools participating.

Another assembly, held annually in the spring, is the Inter-School talent assembly, with the Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors competing.

Bob Luther, Jim Rutledge, Wendy Meyer and Tim Patterson participated in the Thanksgiving assembly.

During the GAA pep assembly, Janet Kunse, captain of the varsity cheerleaders represented Waterford's Enthusiasm.

Choir members sang at various assemblies during the year.

In an exchange assembly, Pontiac Central High sent members of its choral group to entertain Waterford students.

During the school year many unusual happenings occur. Most of them are unexpected and amusing as well as being unusual. Every student realizes that these happenings lend a happy atmosphere to school life in general. You can usually depend on someone, somewhere to think of something to add hilarity to the situation. One picture is worth a thousand words in relating the many happy memories the students have had in their school life at WTHS.

Trip Club's Efforts Make Mackinac A Reality

With the organization of the Trip Club in January of '58, the class of '59 took over the operation of the bookstore, giving them an opportunity to earn money to finance their Senior trip to Mackinac Island. Trip Club officers elected were Tom McAllister, bookstore manager; Sally Fawcett, secretary; and Vivian Rusch, treasurer. Sponsors were Mr. Donald Arsen and Mr. Byron Merritt.

To finance their trip, students sold magazine subscriptions, making a profit of $1674.96. In May of '58, orders for 5,017 boxes of Sanders' candy were taken. Candy sales totaled $1755.95. At Christmas, Sanders' candy was again sold, making the class of '59 the first class to have three money-making projects.

I would like to express my most sincere thanks and appreciation to Mr. Paul Ripley, advisor, who gave so unselfishly of his time and effort toward the production of this book. Also, I would like to thank Mr. Charles Reicks who assisted during the second semester, the Waterlog staff, and especially Sue Rennie, Assistant Editor.

Many thanks are extended to Powell's Studio, Mr. Charles Reicks, Sayles' Studio, Mr. Darrell Dalstra, Mr. Bill Williams and the Pontiac Press for photographs.

We wish to thank the administration and members of the faculty who tolerated our picture schedules and class absences and who helped in so many ways.

To Mr. Mack Suprunowicz of Litho-Art Publishing Company and to Mr. Frank Smrcina of Pontiac Typesetting Company, we extend our thanks for their excellent services.
